ABOUT ME

I'm a passionate front-end developer with a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, and basic JavaScript. I enjoy transforming creative designs into clean, responsive, and user-friendly websites. I pay close attention to detail and focus on building interfaces that offer great user experiences across all devices. Whether working solo or in a team, I'm always eager to learn and grow with every project I take on.

EXPERIENCE

Front-End Developer – Freelance Projects
January 2025 – Present

Developed responsive websites using HTML, CSS, and basic JavaScript.

Built a complete landing page for a gym and fitness website with modern design and layout using Flexbox.

Ensured cross-browser compatibility and mobile responsiveness across various devices.

Applied version control using GitHub for better collaboration and code management.
